

As a profesional truck driver, I find satellite radio a very useful tool in the day to day operations of my business. Satellite radio offers me uninterrupted news,traffic and weather along with the best types of entertainment radio has to offer.This isn't a free service,and I'm having a hard time understanding why the NAB has a problem with it.What makes this any diffrent than pay channels on the television? I and other truckers depend on this service coast to coast. We are the ones paying for it,so please leave satellite radio alone. Thank you for your time.
